(Text) Deposed president Marcos has directed three wanted renegade military officers to wage a campaign of urban terrorism, including bombings and kidnappings, in his continuing bid to wrest power from the Aquino government, a ranking military official told MALAYA yesterday. {ep}

The official, who requested anonymity, said p80 million of p100-million has been allotted to finance the terror campaign. {ep}

The bombing and kidnapping operations are expected to be launched before the May 11 congressional elections. {ep}

The source, who is in touch with various intelligence "listening posts" abroad, said the information was classified as "A-1,"

The overseas reports said renegade officers Brig. Gen. Jose Ma. Zumel, Col. Rolando Abadilla and Lt. Col. Reynaldo Cabauatan have been assigned to carry out the urban terror campaign. {ep}

Recruitment for the urban operations among military men sympathetic to the former president's cause is reportedly still in progress, with enlisted men being offered from P6,000 to P10,000 each for joining the plan; middle-grade officers, p30,000 each; and generals, up to p500,000 each. {ep}

As this developed, a Chinese businessman was reported yesterday to be aiding loyalist government troopers in their destabilization efforts. {ep}

The businessman was described by a military source as a Hong Kong national. A logging contractor since 1983, the Chinese recently acquired a company which has a logging concession in Kabugao, Kalinga-Apayao. {ep}

He is also believed to be acting as a Marcos front in various logging operations. The source said he supports both Marcos loyalist troops and local New People's Army guerillas. He is supposed to be a personal friend of ''Ka (comrade) Ismael,'' the NPA chief in the logging site. {ep}

The chinese is reported to be giving p3 million yearly to both the NPA and pro-Marcos soldiers. The money is on top of donations of firearms and ammunition. {ep}

The source added he also supplies the NPA names of other businessmen who could be tapped for ''donation.'' He even acts as go-between for the NPA and the target businessmen. {ep}

Zumel, Abadilla and Cabauatan have denied involvement in several coup tries crushed by force loyal to President Aquino the past 16 months. The latest attempt was on Black Saturday, April 18, when a group of rebel soldiers attacked Fort Bonifacio. Bomb explosions at two multinational soap factories coincided with the pre-dawn-raid. (ep)

The three renegade military officers have remained at large despite orders for their arrest issued last Jan. 30. (ep)
